The 36th edition of the Directory of Community legislation in force published by the institutions of the European Communities contains all Community legislation set out in the Official Journal of the European Communities from 1 January 2001.

The Directory is compiled from the CELEX database, the interinstitutional computerised documentation system for Community law, which has been open to the public since 1981.

With regard to the range of documentation covered, it was felt that the Directory should include not only current Community legislation as such but also other instruments reflecting the activities of the European Union (EU, ECSC, EEC, EC and Euratom) such as policy instruments and decisions taken in individual cases but of more general interest.

The Directory therefore covers:

- (a) agreements and conventions concluded by the Communities in connection with their external relations;
- (b) binding secondary legislation (regulations, decisions, ECSC general decisions and recommendations, EEC/EC/Euratom directives) under the Treaties establishing the European Union and the European Communities, with the exception of day-to-day administrative acts;
- (c) supplementary legislation, in particular decisions of representatives of the Governments of the Member States meeting within the Council;
- (d) certain non-binding acts considered by the institutions to be important.

The Directory appears in two volumes:

Volume I, the main body of the Directory, consists of 20 chapters with acts arranged according to subject,

Volume II contains chronological and alphabetical indexes of the acts appearing in Volume I.

The Directory is published in all the official Community languages and will be updated and republished every six months.
